HARVEST ARMY INVADES PRAIRIE REGION

Big Rate Argument Makes Control of B.C. Utilities Vital Issue

Interior Dispute, to Be Argued Here To-morrow, Becomes So Complicated Legislature Is Expected to Take Action to Settle Whole Power Rate Question at Next Session; Large Communities and Industries Directly Involved; Whole Province Affected Indirectly

Creation of a public utilities commission in British Columbia will be forced to the fore, probably as the chief issue at the first session of the new Legislature, by events which will culminate in an important hearing on electrical rates before the Provincial Water Board here to-morrow morning.

The long-standing dispute between the West Kootenay Power and Light Company and consumers of its power has reached such a state of complexity, and threatens such grave results on the eve of the Water Board's hearing, that only action by the Legislature, it is believed, can settle the difficulty permanently.

While the Water Board will hear the legal and technical aspects of the rate controversy which has been proceeding between Grand Forks City, the Granby Mining and Smelting Company and the big interior power corporation, this will be only the first step in handling the situation. The next will be a full discussion of power rate control generally by the Union of B.C. Municipalities at its annual convention shortly. After that the Legislature is expected to threaten to take the whole question and create some machinery for handling power disputes in all parts of the Province on a permanent basis.

The case now before the Water Board involves virtually the whole of British Columbia's southern interior, important communities and huge industries. And at its present stage it threatens to deprive the whole Okanagan Valley and contiguous districts of all electrical power and light.

The dispute started some months ago when Grand Forks City demanded lower power rates than those charged by the West Kootenay Power and Light Company. The company declined to meet the demands of the Grand Forks authorities. Thereupon F. A. McDiarmid, (Concluded on Page 13)

Liquor is Sold At Church Hotel In New York State

New York, Aug. 14.—Rev. Dr. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, New York, was on the war-path to-day when he was informed liquor had been purchased in his newly acquired hotel near Greenwood Lake, N.Y. The clergyman, whose recent sermon criticizing Governor Al Smith as Democratic candidate for the Presidency of the United States, drew the Governor's fire, took title to the hotel six weeks ago for the Greenwood Lake Christian Assembly.

Tokio, Aug. 14.—Imperial sanction has been obtained for the withdrawal of five companies of Japanese infantry from Tientsin, China.

It is expected the evacuation of the Sixth Division from Shantung also will be ordered shortly as otherwise it would be necessary to organize Winter quarters.

MENACE OF FIRES IS DYING DOWN

In Lower B.C. No New Outbreaks Reported; Only High Winds Can Bring Danger

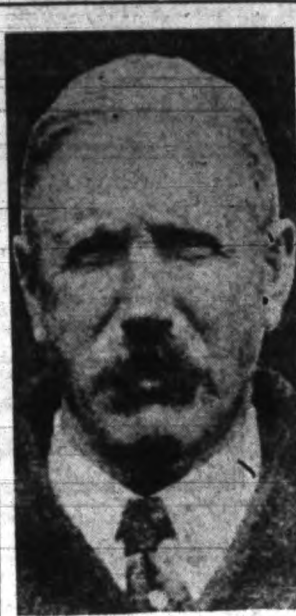

Vancouver, Aug. 14.—No new fires were reported at the office of the District Forester here to-day and those already in progress were rapidly being surrounded and controlled, it was said. High wind alone would be likely to break them out of bounds, it was stated.

The 800-acre fire near Duncan, Vancouver Island, will be surrounded sometime to-day, it is expected. No new damage is reported.

The Alberni fire also is well controlled.

The lower mainland is practically clear of fires, last week's outbreaks having been dampened down satisfactorily by Sunday's rain.

HON. ROBERT FORKE
Minister of Immigration, who is now traveling west from Ottawa.

COUNT GIVES LIBERAL SEAT IN B.C. HOUSE

Hon. I. Mackenzie, N. Vancouver, Declared Elected to Legislature; Majority 32

Vancouver, Aug. 14.—The final provincial general election count in the North Vancouver constituency as announced by Returning Officer J. D. Gillman, who completed the tally this morning, gives Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Liberal, a majority of 32 votes over J. Loutet, Conservative. The totals are: Mackenzie 2,498, Loutet 2,466, A. C. McMillan (Independent) 396.

Mr. Loutet will not demand a recount, it is stated.

Rejection of approximately 125 absentee ballots, of which nearly eight were cast by persons not on the voters' list, has been ordered by John Murray, returning officer of Burnaby, in the course of the final count in the constituency.

Mr. Murray allowed 305 absentee ballots of the 430 presented from all parts of the province. With the ballots from Fort George still to be counted, the standing in the riding is now: Dr. J. A. McIvor, Liberal, 1,779; W. R. Rutledge, Conservative, 2,144, and F. A. Browne, Labor, 1,330.

Deputy returning officers are unable to account for the remarkably high percentage of spoiled ballots among the absentee vote. It is apparent, they declare, that many persons who were not qualified to vote thought it was at least worth an attempt.

THREE DEATHS IN HOUSE FIRE

Wealthy San Francisco Man and Three Others Injured in Blaze at Redwood, Cal.

Redwood City, Cal., Aug. 14.—Three persons lost their lives in a fire which swept the Sumner home of Sol Koff, a wealthy San Francisco real estate man, here to-day. Four persons were injured.

Those who lost their lives were Mrs. Lena Koff, Howard Koff, seven, and Miss Rose Heyman, a New Jersey school teacher, a cousin.

The injured are: Sol Koff, whose leg was severely cut in a leap from a second floor window; the Koff's nine-month-old son, treated for bruises and shock, and Mrs. A. Renger, the baby's nurse, sprained ankle, took, sprained wrist and bruises.

THE FATALITIES resulted from suffocation. Members of the Redwood City fire department worked over the three bodies at the scene of the fire in an attempt to revive them.

The fire, which broke out at 3 a.m., may have resulted from a chimney defect as the family last night burned a large mass of papers in a fireplace, preparatory to returning to their San Francisco home to-day.

Elaborate Exhibits Prepared as Date of Fair Opening Nears

With only six days to go before the opening next Monday, workmen are busy at the Willows Fair grounds getting everything in readiness for the Provincial Exhibition in accordance with a request of the management that all exhibits be complete for the opening day.

Clerks are at work segregating the great entry list and representatives of the great entry list and representatives of the great entry list are on the ground directing carpenters working on their stands. Keen satisfaction on the outlook was expressed by Secretary W. H. Morris, this morning.

"Given fair weather, there is nothing to prevent the show from being the best on record," he said. "The entries are most comprehensive, embracing agricultural and horticultural products from every part of Vancouver Island. Some of the best breeders of Canada are here, and the best known breeders of the United States have entered stock and competition will be keen."

The support of Victoria people who praise from Mr. Morris. Pointing to the school sections, the art sections and the children's exhibits, he said the large number of entries received had cordially accepted the invitation to make the Victoria exhibition a city-wide fair.

The entertainment features have been well prepared this year. Besides attractions in the various buildings, the midway will be of unusually large proportions, with a variety of attractions never before seen in Victoria.

They dropped abstract bombs on Whitehall itself, even on the offices of the Air Ministry, the home of the air defence. The Beckton gasoline depot also was bombed. The attackers conceded there were only six casualties.

Hundreds of Londoners, with refreshments and photographs, remained up all night watching the spectacle.

He was born in 1863 and educated privately in Yorkshire and France. In early life he varied his journalistic career with travels in India and the United States.

He was attached to the headquarters staff of the British war mission in the United States in 1917 and in 1921 collected in America a large sum for the restoration of Westminster Abbey.

Magistrate Paul McD. Kerr consented to the withdrawal when a written statement in which the woman was declared insane was presented. The statement was signed by Dr. H. L. Turnbull and Dr. W. A. Dobson.

The woman will be committed to the asylum at Escondale.

IRISH CHIEF JUSTICE ON VISIT HERE

Hon. Hugh M. Kennedy Will Speak To-morrow at Canadian Club

Ireland's Relation to Canada Discussed on Arrival Here To-day

"Our constitution was modeled after that of Canada," said Hon. Hugh M. Kennedy, Chief Justice of the Free State, when, accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy, he arrived here to-day from Seattle. "That is why I am particularly interested in examining the constitutional progress of the Dominion." His Lordship added.

Mr. Justice Morrison accompanied the Chief Justice of Ireland here from Seattle. The party was met at the wharf by A. D. Macfarlane, K.C., president of the Victoria Bar Association, and W. C. Morency, K.C., past president of the organization.

These two members of the Victoria bar welcomed the Chief Justice as he came down the gangway.

FRIENDLY FEELING

The Chief Justice chatted as he walked down the promenade from the wharf to the waiting automobile, speaking of the feeling of friendliness which he and all Ireland felt towards Canada.

"I was one of those who drafted the legal constitution of the Irish Free State," said His Lordship. "Naturally I have a particular interest in this country. We drafted our constitution in 1922, and modeled our constitution after that of Canada of 1867. Consequently we have mutual interests. We have a sympathy for one another, for we have faced the same problems."

There was a tendency towards similar progress as that experienced in Canada. Serious-thinking men were devoting their lives to the building of a new nation, he declared.

WINS TRIBUTE

The Chief Justice recently addressed a meeting of the convention delegates of the American Bar Association in Seattle. He was the principal speaker at that convention. Word has come to Victoria of the very favorable impression he created there. "The smiling, blue-eyed Justice of Erin's highest court," he was styled by the man who introduced him to the celebrities of the United States bar.

To-day, after he had registered at the Empress Hotel, the chief justice will be the guest of the Canadian Club, and will address the gathering. He will speak, it is believed, upon the character and source of the Irish constitution.

GREAT FLOOD RUMOR FALSE

Simla, Punjab, Aug. 14.—The Punjab Government received official information to-day that reports of the bursting of a glacial dam on the Shyok River, in Kashmir, were erroneous.

The claim arises out of a contract dated February 11, 1927, and known as contract No. 13, for the clearing of a pipeline right of way, four miles long, and grubbing it in part, along Seymour Creek.

The agreement, it is alleged, also called for close cutting in part and the clearing and grubbing of the balance of a reservoir site above the Burrill Line on Seymour Creek.

AUSTRALIAN WINS TENNIS

WOMAN IN COURT Declared Insane

South Vancouver, Aug. 14.—The murder charge laid against Mrs. Margaret Smith, South Vancouver, whose daughter Mary, aged fifteen, died Thursday after swallowing rat poison, was withdrawn in the police court this morning.

The woman will be committed to the asylum at Escondale.

Dr. Andrews is reported to have said the skull alone furnished ground for believing the monster's head, when alive, weighed 400 pounds.

The claim arises out of a contract dated February 11, 1927, and known as contract No. 13, for the clearing of a pipeline right of way, four miles long, and grubbing it in part, along Seymour Creek.

Winnipeg Sees Great Groups of Men From Eastern Canada Travel West to Aid Farmers With Harvesting of Bountiful Crop; Men Well Equipped; First Group of British Workers to Land in Canada Next Saturday

Winnipeg, Aug. 14.—Five thousand harvesters from the Maritime Provinces and Eastern Quebec and more than 1,600 immigrants poured into Winnipeg throughout to-day and in a few hours most of them resumed their travels westward to be placed on farms in the prairie provinces.

Five special trains carried the travelers to Winnipeg, one train of twenty-five coaches bringing 1,100 men.

The harvesters are a very fine type of man and the majority have started upon their adventure well equipped, according to the Government employment officials directing the distribution of the workers.

Next Friday the next batch of harvesters is expected in the city. They will come from Ontario and Quebec.

TO SASKATCHEWAN

Regina, Aug. 14.—Four thousand harvest workers from Eastern Canada reached Regina last night and this morning.

These swelled the ranks in this province, 1,000 having arrived yesterday and gone to farms west and south of Regina.

These men were included in the thousands who reached Winnipeg yesterday and the day before.

FROM GREAT BRITAIN

Montreal, Aug. 14.—The first group of unemployed British coal miners bound for the harvest fields of the prairies will reach Canadian ports by the end of this week, according to reports reaching the offices of the Canadian National Railways here from the steamship companies which are handling the men on the ocean voyage. From information at hand, approximately 1,800 will reach Quebec and Halifax on August 18, and the following day the second contingent of 2,000 will land at the same ports.

VANCOUVER DISCUSSION

Vancouver, Aug. 14.—When Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration, now en route to the British Columbia coast, arrives in Vancouver he will be met by a civic delegation which will discuss the question of the Federal Government's action in agreeing to the sending of 10,000 harvesters from Great Britain to Canada. This was decided on by the City Council yesterday afternoon.

The city's attitude with regard to the immigration subject is based on fear that many of the men from Great Britain will come to Vancouver after the harvest. The council fears that in the winter they will have without sufficient employment.

A letter from the Associated Property Owners of Vancouver, endorsed the council's recent protest.

DRIVER FACES GRAVE CHARGE

Committed For Trial Following Fatal Accident in South Vancouver

South Vancouver, Aug. 14.—Leonard E. Skippen of Boston, B.C., driver of the automobile which crashed into a telephone pole on Kingsway near Battison Avenue on July 14, was committed for trial by Magistrate Paul McD. Kerr this morning. He is charged with manslaughter.

"Although I realize the curve on Kingsway near Battison Avenue creates a danger to traffic, the evidence gives me no option," declared Magistrate Kerr in answer to counsel's plea for dismissal of the charge.

It was contended Skippen was not to blame for the fact that his automobile skidded on the curve.

Fourteen Sailors Are Reported Lost

Boston, Aug. 14.—An unconfirmed report was received here to-day that fourteen members of the crew of the steamship William A. McKenna had been swept overboard during a storm while the ship was four days out of Los Angeles, bound for Boston.

Officials of the Mysia Steamship Line, owners of the vessel, said they had received word the McKenna had signalled a passing liner that its radio had been carried overboard during a storm August 8 and that the ship had been badly damaged and was in need of help.

At the company office it was said the last report from the ship, which had a cargo of lumber, was that it was making slow progress toward the Panama Canal. It was expected that within a few days.

BIG CLOUDBURST IN ARIZONA MAKES COFFEE DOLLAR A CUP

Phoenix, Arizona, Aug. 14.—A desert cloudburst that swept out all roads between here and Prescott and marooned approximately 500 automobiles parties, to-day figuratively has washed into existence again "the dollar coffee" and "dollar bread" reminiscent of this state's old-time mining camp boom days.

Trapped just north of Wickenburg, when flood waters destroyed the roads in the vicinity, many hundreds of excursionists were held up for the better part of last night. Food vendors from nearby towns soon became aware of a potential gold mine, and ferried through the flood waters with supplies for the hungry travelers. A small cup of coffee netted those who had it to sell $1, as did a loaf of bread. A five-cent box of crackers brought 50 cents.

The torrents started their money-making deluge at 6 o'clock last evening, and the first of the motorists to get through arrived here at 2:30 this morning.

MOVE TO MAKE ARTERIAL WAY

Esquimalt Road Will Be Through Street, is Council's Plan

Esquimalt will consider at its next council meeting a by-law for an arterial highway rule on Esquimalt Road. Acting on the recommendation of Reeve James Erick, the council at its meeting last night approved the scheme, and will pass on a by-law at its next meeting.

The Victoria Police Commission and the City Council will co-operate with Esquimalt in making Esquimalt Road an arterial highway inside and outside the city limits, according to plans. It will cost Esquimalt $120 to erect stop signs on all thoroughfares leading into Esquimalt Road, according to a report made by Chief of Police John Aremson.

The council learned that several tax sale lots had been sold. W. R. Begbie of Vancouver, had purchased two, Eva M. Kemp and Charlotte M. White had each taken one and C. G. Girdstone another. The approximate price of these lots was $600 in total.

U.S. POLICIES IN MEXICO SCORED

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 14.—Secretary Kellogg and the State Department were sharply criticized for the policies of the United States in Mexico in an address at the general conference of the Institute of Politics here yesterday by Prof. David F. Thomas of the University of Arkansas.

"Why should any nation be denied the right to pass laws requiring sale of lands under eminent domain," the speaker asked, "when these laws operate on citizens and aliens alike? For whose benefit has our State Department been laboring so assiduously?"

"People with agricultural holdings in Mexico do not seem to have raised any great furor, but the oil people have been constantly in the limelight, among the rebel companies being the Doheny and Sinclair interests."

LAUGHTER AMONG GODS

Recalling the criminal actions instituted against Albert B. Fall, Harry F. Sinclair and Edward L. Doheny by the Government at the time the controversy with Mexico was at its height, Prof. Thomas said:

"The gods of Olympus must laugh every time they think about how our State Department is defending these men, whom the Department of Justice move heaven and earth to put behind prison bars."

The conference was presided over by Prof. Charles W. Hackett, University of Texas, who approved some aspects of the department's course in Mexico.

"Happily," he said, "the United States Government has never misunderstood nor questioned the motives behind Mexico's agrarian programme. Secretary of State Hughes expressed full sympathy with the efforts, but objected to the method of expropriation."

CHEMISTRY AND WAR DISCUSSED

Sir James C. Irvine Says
Laboratories Are Potential
War Instruments

Evansville, Ill., Aug. 14.—The crux of the war situation was laid at the door of chemistry last night by Sir James C. Irvine, principal of St. Andrews University, Scotland, in an address at a session of the American Chemical Society Institute at the Northwestern University.

"The whole machinery of war will be scrapped, battleships may be sunk, armies disbanded and fortresses demolished," he said, "but the chemical factories will remain, and as long as they exist they will be potential war factories."

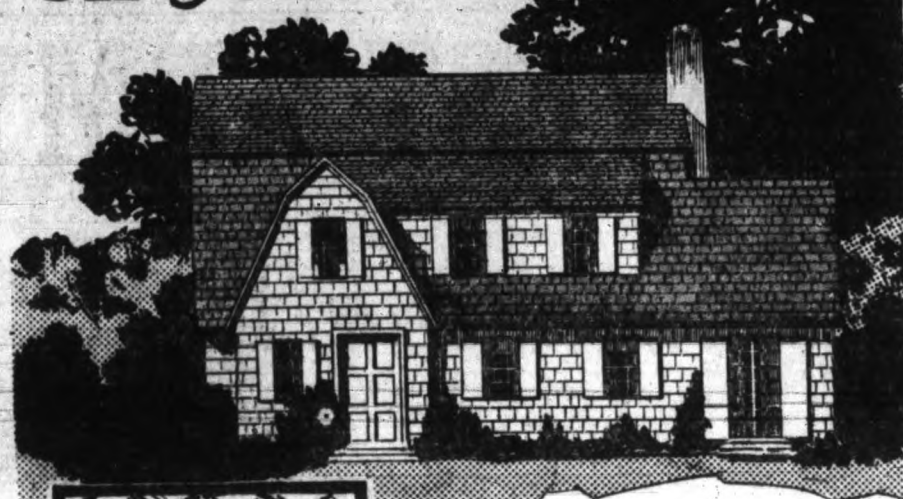

"A modern works designed for large scale production of organic compounds, such as dyestuffs, requires little alteration in plant or personnel to convert it in a few hours into a place from which will pour materials more deadly by far than those used in the World War."

MOST EFFICIENT INSTRUMENT
"I do not speak in panic created by reading sensational articles, but I have a profound respect for the power of chemistry. As matters stand at present, the nation which possesses the most efficient chemical industry possesses the most efficient instrument of war."

"The war of the future may be declared, waged and won within a few days," he asserted.

Sir James said that in his heart the chemist loathed the suggestion that his science should be used in this way, but

ROBBERS FAILED TO LOOT BANK

Thugs Got Into Building in Harris, Sask., But Secured
No Money

Harris, Sask., Aug. 14.—Bank robbers attempted to rob the Royal Bank branch here Sunday night, but secured nothing, as they were unable to get any farther than the vault door. They were unable to open the door.

The yeggs secured entrance to the bank building by breaking the glass in the door of the staff room at the back of the building and turning the lock. Once inside the room they backed away at the loud and plaster partition and cut a large hole, through which they entered the main office.

Inspection by police officers yesterday showed the men had drilled a hole in the vault door combination and set off a charge of nitroglycerine. The hole was not deep enough, and the explosive only had the effect of detaching the outer rim of the combination lock and imbedding it in the ceiling of the office.

From the police reports it is believed the robbers were frightened away while at work, for they left three old blankets and some comforts which they had taken to muffle the sound of the explosion.

The robbers cut the telephone wires from the office of the manager.

There was about $15,000 in cash in the bank.

Milk Inspection Systems Discussed

Vancouver, Aug. 14.—W. H. McCoshman, manager of the dairy of David Spencer Limited, testifying at the Vancouver milk inquiry yesterday afternoon, said platform inspection of milk was very important, since the platform was the point of acceptance.

J. H. Bancroft, accountant of the dairy of David Spencer Limited, submitted evidence on prices paid and received by the dairy.

E. G. Sherwood, president of Sherwood Creameries Limited, and secretary of the Port-Can Ice Cream Company, said world markets, as a result of the Great War, had been the main cause of fluctuations in the prices paid to the producers. He stated he had paid a small premium to encourage uniform shipments of milk throughout the year, but had discontinued the practice.

"One hundred per cent co-operation would be very interesting," he said. "It is possible, but not probable to get all the farmers to agree. I think the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association tion has done very well in getting the large number it has to agree."

FIRE IS AGAIN UNDER CONTROL

Osborne Farm Suffers; Outbreak Yesterday But Momentary

Although fire blazed out anew in the Sooke district yesterday afternoon, destroyed barns, crops and machinery on Frank Osborne's farm near Luxton, and threatened the homestead where Mrs. Osborne was alone with her five children, reports from the fire front to-day said that the flames were once more under control.

A rough estimate of the damage to the Osborne place was set at $500. Firefighters were in the Humphreys reservoir timber yesterday afternoon and only a few scattered guards were left along the lines near the Osborne farm and down towards Luxton. It was in the absence of the main force of fighters that the fire got temporarily out of control and worked its destructive way into the Osborne property.

A call for assistance was carried along the line and men were on the scene in time to prevent the fire's spread.

TRAFFIC BY-LAW PASSES COUNCIL

Arterial Highways Legalized;
Hotels Retain Soliciting Privileges

The City Council last night finally passed the Streets Traffic Regulation By-law, authorizing arterial highways and stop signals, and the measure will be in effect as soon as it is registered, probably before Thursday.

A petition was presented by the hotel-keepers of the city, objecting to restrictions upon soliciting for hotels. The paragraph had been inserted to control disorderly shouting at ship and train terminals, and Mayor Pennington stated the Police Commission had no opposition to concessions to hotels.

The clause was then amended to allow attendants of hotel buses their customary privilege of solicitation.

Notes Arrange Settlement of Nanking Incident of March, 1927

London, Aug. 14.—Correspondence between Sir Miles Lampson, British Minister to China, and Dr. C. T. Wang, Nationalist Foreign Minister, under which a settlement was reached between Great Britain and the Chinese Nationalist Government on the Nanking incident of March, 1927, was made public last night by the Foreign Office.

Under the settlement the Nanking Government apologized for the firing on the British gunboat, and undertook to punish those guilty. The British Government declined to apologize for the firing on the gunboat. It agreed to share in negotiations on treaty revision "in due course."

LETTERS EXCHANGED

The letters under which the settlement was reached were exchanged on August 9 between Dr. Wang and Sir Miles. In the first letter Dr. Wang conveyed the Nationalist Government's profound regret at the indignities and injuries inflicted upon official representatives of the British Government and for the losses and injuries sustained by the British consulate and residents.

Dr. Wang said that although it had been proved the trouble was entirely instigated by Communists, the Nationalist Government accepted responsibility.

Dr. Wang undertook that there should be no repetition of the incident, said the troops concerned had been disbanded and effective steps taken to punish the soldiers and others implicated, and stated that in accordance with the well accepted principles of international law, the Nationalist Government undertook to make full compensation for all personal injuries and material damage. He proposed that a joint commission be established to verify the injuries caused and to assess the damages.

In a short note, Sir Miles accepted the Chinese letter.

SPELLING OF HILL

Then in another letter Dr. Wang alluded to the firing on the gunboat by the British cruiser Emerald, and voiced the earnest hope that the British Government would express regret for this.

In his rejoinder the British Minister stated the Emerald's action was a provocative act, strictly confined to the immediate neighborhood and foreign houses, and absolutely necessary for the protection of British lives and property.

Dr. Wang then, referring to the settlement reached, expressed in a new letter the hope that a new epoch would begin in diplomatic relations, and suggested further steps for the revision of treaties and the readjustment of outstanding questions on a basis of equality and mutual respect for territorial sovereignty.

To this Sir Miles replied with an allusion to previous declarations by the British Government in favor of treaty revision, and stated the British Government was prepared in due course to enter negotiations with the Nationalist Government on treaty revision.

"His Majesty's Government does not intend to allow the Nanking incident to alter its previous attitude toward China and prefers to consider it as an episode bearing no relation to its treaty revision policy," Sir Miles wrote.

"Why is it that a red-headed woman always marries a very meek man?" "She doesn't. He just gets that way."

Explosions Alarm New York People

New York, Aug. 14.—A series of three explosions in an excavation for a new Eighth Avenue subway between Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Streets last night threw the neighborhood into wild excitement and caused slight damage to construction equipment. No one was injured.

A short circuit in one of twelve electrical conduits caused the blasts, firemen discovered. Sand and gravel were flung into the air and a stretch of timber shoring was set afire, but the blaze was quickly extinguished.

CLERKS AGREE TO WAGE CUT

Third of Great British Railway Workers' Unions Supports Relief Plan

London, Aug. 14 (Canadian Press Cable).—The Railway Clerks' Association, the third of the three great railway workers' unions of Great Britain, has now ratified the agreement between the employers and workers for an all-round cut of 2½ per cent in wages and the decrease becomes effective to-day.

The estimated saving in labor costs to the railways is about $15,000,000 annually. The agreement may be terminated at the end of a year on three months' notice. While the reduction, which applies equally to the executives, has been accepted, many workers maintain that they are undergoing a double sacrifice inasmuch as the policy of grouping the railways means the abolition of many important appointments and involves a general decline in prospects of promotion.

The reduction was agreed upon after conferences between directors and representatives of the unions to effect some measure of relief to the railways, which are undergoing a period of depression. Other measures also have been taken, including a government subsidy in return for reduction in transport rates on coal.

Things don't always turn out as you expect—and that includes the automobile just ahead of you.

ILLINOIS NEGRO ADMITS MURDER

Says He Killed Woman School Teacher When Robbing Her

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Evanston police to-day wrote "solved" across the case of Jennie Mae Constance, slain near the Northwestern University campus last Tuesday night.

David Shanks, a young negro book-black, was held as the slayer of the forty-two-year-old English teacher. Police said he had made a complete confession.

Robbery was the motive Shanks gave when police asked him why he had struck down Miss Constance shortly after she had started down a dark street from the university library. "All I get for shining shoes is tips," he told officers, "and that's about $5 a week. That ain't enough and that's why I set out to rob some woman last Tuesday night. I guess it wasn't worth while, for all I got was a wrist watch that I sold for $1.19."

WATCH WAS CLUE

It was the watch that led the police to Shanks. A jeweler notified the police a wrist watch had been brought to him for removal of the initials "J.M.C." Officers were waiting last night when Lebert Bastian, a youth whose father operates an Evanston shoe shine parlor, called for the timepiece. Bastian told of buying the watch for $1.19 from Shanks, whom he had met at a school teacher's home.

Shanks was arrested as he was polishing a customer's shoes. "Where did you get this watch?" one of the officers demanded, while others covered Shanks with revolvers. "Don't shoot," the negro cried. "I done it. I killed her."

Miss Constance, a school teacher, was a student at the Summer school of the university.

Not Enough Ships
For Harvesters

London, Aug. 14.—Owing to inadequate steamship accommodation, it will be impossible to transport Canada the full quota of 10,000 unemployed men of Great Britain who were to work in the prairie harvest fields, according to J. Bruce Walker, director of European migration for Canada.
Mr. Walker, who has been responsible for many of the arrangements for conveying the harvesters, said last night that possibly not more than 5,000 would be taken to Canada from all sources.

If they could be taken, Scotland could provide about 3,000 men, Northeast England, 2,500; Southern Wales,
2,500; Birmingham and the Midlands,
1,800; and London and Southern England, 750.

Speaking generally, the Ministry of Labor was well satisfied with the expedition and the goodwill which had been evident everywhere, an official of the Ministry said last night.

Sidney Trade Board Hold Annual Gala

Sidney, Aug. 14.—The glorious sunshine that prevailed on Monday afternoon drew over 300 people from Sidney and North Beach to the ferry wharf beach, where the Board of Trade an-

A large number of contestants entered the different races, which were closely watched by the spectators.
The cupholders had strong competition to make the races more interesting.
One of the most interesting incidents of the afternoon was the fifty-yard race for married women, in which only two entered, and after trying in vain to reach their destination by swimming, finally walked.

Much interest was taken in the high diving contest, which commenced with an exhibition dive by Ken Darbyshire of Victoria. At the conclusion of these

Audrey Griffin Will Not Compete In Swim To Gorge This Year

After Participating in Through-Victoria Swim for Thirteen Years Famous Mermaid Decides to Drop Out; Won Race for Eight Consecutive Years and Then Came Back Last Year After Two Defeats; Vancouver Sending Over Swimmers; Young Local Stars Seek Honors

Audrey Griffin, the star performer in The Times long-distance swim through Victoria for many years, when approached last night in regard to entering the event on Saturday, stated she had decided not to compete this year.

For many years Miss Griffin has been looked upon as a certain winner of The Times swim, and occasionally aspirants for the honors were discouraged when they found that they were to compete against a swimmer of such prowess. This year chances for a win in the swim will be given to a greater number of entrants.

STEP DOWN FOR ONCE

"It is time for me to step down and give some one else a chance," Miss Griffin said.

Miss Griffin has competed in The Times swim for thirteen years and has been a prize winner every time. She won the race for eight consecutive years. Her string of wins was halted in 1925, when Johnny Cameron, of Vancouver, with his powerful overarm stroke, won the race. Cameron repeated the following year.

Miss Griffin came back last year and regained possession of The Times perpetual challenge cup.

To date ten local entries have been filed and more are expected to come in. Will be seen from Vancouver that a contingent of swimmers may be expected from that city, including Miss Janet Shearer, a Toronto girl, who is staying at the Terminal City at present, and Sheila Ritchie, of Calgary. Percy Norman, Vancouver's star swimmer, is a sure entry for the race, and Johnny Bayley is expected to be over. Doris Fackes, a well-known mermaid of that city, has stated that she intends to compete. The other entry from Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club is Gordon Campbell.

MANY LOCAL SWIMMERS

Victoria will be represented by a group of young swimmers, including David Burnett, the young boy who finished well up last year, as well as some of the experienced swimmers such as Owen Bailey. Other contestants are David Tyson, Pete Tyson, Winnie Pollard, Betty Pollard and Charles E. Singaby. Some six or seven additional entries from this city are expected within two days.

The swimmers will change at the Crystal Garden and will start the swim from the float in front of the Empress Hotel. Competitors are reminded that they must be accompanied by a pilot and must furnish their own pilot boats.

Mixed Foursomes At Colwood Club

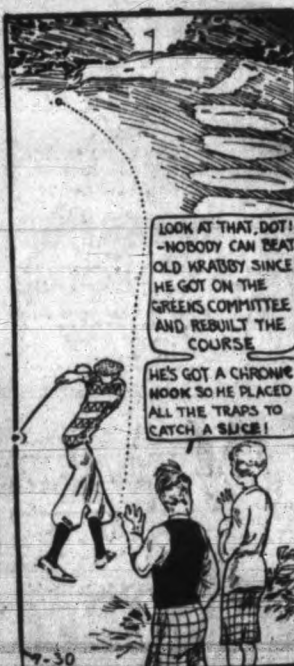

A mixed foursome competition will be played to-morrow at the Colwood Golf Club. Visitors are invited to compete with the members. The competition will be played with handicaps. Players may choose their own partners and arrange their own starting times. The entrance fee will be one dollar a couple.

Toronto Will Tender Civic Reception To Canuck Stars

Toronto, Aug. 14.—Joe Wright Jr., winner of the Diamond Skulls at Henley, and the Canadian athletes who participated in the Olympic Games at Amsterdam, will be accorded a civic reception in front of the city hall on Monday evening, August 27. This was decided last night at a meeting at the city hall attended by more than fifty representatives of various sporting organizations.

A resolution was unanimously adopted that invitations be extended to all competitors in the Olympic Games with a special invitation to Percy Williams, of Vancouver, winner of the 100 and 200-metre sprints, and other non-residents to travel via Toronto when proceeding to their homes, so that the city may tender them a reception.

Mandell Fights To-night And Is Big Favorite

Janesville, Wis., Aug. 14.—In his first bout since he defended his title against Jimmy McLarin, May 31, in New York, Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, will fight ten rounds with Johnny O'Donnell of St. Paul, to-night in the Janesville fair grounds open air arena.

While O'Donnell was "good enough in Minneapolis last winter to hold the Rockford boxer for ten rounds, the champion is a heavy favorite for to-night's brawl.

Mandell, win or lose, will still be champion, because Wisconsin title fights are at 138 pounds, over the lightweight limit.

FOUR BOXERS KNOCKED OUT

Flock of Hard Wallops Handed Out Last Night in Chicago Ring

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Four knockouts in six bouts last night added to the records of Jerry "Tuffy" Griffith, 160-pounder, Blount City, Iowa; Shuf-Ofle Callahan, Chicago middleweight; Ernie Owen, Los Angeles, 168-pounder, and Frank Morris, 165-pounder from New York.

HORSES RUN TO FORM AT LOCAL TRACK

Only One Favorite Out of the Money Yesterday; Highest Price $19.20

Dr. J. B. Clark's Mare Borne E. Again Cops Long Event in Thrilling Finish

After two big surprises for the form pickers on Saturday, the ponies at Colwood yesterday settled down to true running and favorites were in the money six times out of the seven and took the purses in three events.

There were a few good prices nevertheless. Shore Boat returning $19.20 to place in the second race, and Charmonde Hope $14.10 on $3 straight pastebards in the fourth.

CAME FROM BEAR

Jockey Haven again had a leg up on Borne E. and cleverly rated her behind the pace to win by a neck after passing the whole field in the stretch. The Clark mare was three lengths behind the field as the horses passed the grandstand the first time in the mile and one-eighth. On the first turn she dropped still further behind and seemed well out of it going down the back stretch. As the last turn was rounded however, the little chestnut shook herself loose, and with little urging from her rider galloped through the middle of the track to beat out Chick Bell, the favorite, by a neck.

The crowd gave Dr. Clark and Jockey Haven a big handi-cup as the horse was brought back to the judge's stand. Borne E. scored a very much similar victory last Thursday.

WON EASILY

With Trivet in the saddle, Seth's Bacon, from the Buchanan stable, won the first event by a neck. Evening Star was favored to take the honors in the betting, but after leading half the distance, was unable to compete against the Buchanan gelding in a hard drive up the stretch. Charlie Murray, a field entry, was third.

Shore Boat, one of the Emmert string, came to upsetting form-followers in the second when he snatched the lead early in the running and seemed to have a fair chance when Warlight, an odds-on favorite, bore wide on the turn. The Emmert entry was not strong enough to hold off Warlight in the stretch, however, and lost out by a length. Warlight was considered a cinch in this event by the bettors and returned only $2.95 on $3 straight tickets.

TWO-HORSE RACE

The five-furlong third race for Western-bred three-year-olds was a pretty event and resolved itself into a fight between Homome, the favorite, and Willow Park. Willow Park shot in from behind after the break and seemed the winner entering the stretch, being four lengths in front. Under a fine ride by Palaes, Homome made an undeniable bid for victory to the wire and overhauled the leader, winning by half a length. It was a nice finish.

Fame Rose came from behind to secure the show honors from Somer's Jester, who showed considerable speed for the first half. The public found it hard to decide the best horse in the fourth race and every contender was quoted at better than seven to two. Trivet brought his second winner of the day, a second round, getting Charmonde Hope, a 6-to-1 shot down in front after coming from behind. Carrying 120 pounds, three pounds more than any horse Craney was third, and G. entry La-honton was not well favored to get a share of the purse but took the place honors after a good race. The favorite for this event, he broke badly however, and was practically left at the post, finishing last by ten lengths.

London Boy Shoots Two Fine Rounds of Golf in Canadian Amateur

Montreal, Aug. 14.—G. Ross Somerville, of the London Golf Club, Canadian amateur champion in 1926, started a formidable threat for the 1928 honors when he led the field in the 36-hole qualifying round of the event here yesterday, turning in a 74-71-145, to head the list by two strokes. Somerville's 71 on the second round was within one stroke of the course record.

Close behind him came two youngsters, Carroll Stuart of the Royal Ottawa Club and Niel Thompson Jr. of Chedoke, Hamilton, each of whom turned in a 73-74-147.

Scores of 163 or better qualified for the first round match play to-morrow.

Two of the best hiked or begged caddies from Hamilton, Toronto and Ottawa who arrived in Montreal over the week-end were on hand here yesterday to supplement the regular caddy squad of the Summerlee Club for the annual Canadian amateur golf championship tourney.

The out of town lads arrived by various means. The majority of them were reaching the metropolis by begging rides from passing motorists. They slept where they could find sufficient shelter on the route, barns and haystacks coming in handy after dark.

Some Olympic Champions In Action

Visit Of Compston And Boomer To Uplands Is Creating Much Interest

International Golf Stars Will Play Exhibition Match of Eighteen Holes at Uplands Course on Saturday Afternoon; Course Improved and Will Provide Good Test for Visitors

Archie Compston and Audrey Boomer, two of the leading golf professionals of the world, will visit Victoria on Saturday next. They have been engaged to give an exhibition match at the Uplands Golf Club. It is expected that play will start at about 2.30 o'clock.

When it was reported that these two men, whose standing is excelled by none in Europe, were to make a tour this year of Western Canada, the executive of the Uplands Golf Club decided to do their utmost to secure them for a match in this city. In taking this step, they felt they were acting not only as their own and that the club would have the opportunity of entertaining them, the directors of the Uplands Golf Club have been busy engaged in putting the course in even better condition than it has been since the beginning of the year. The fairways are being kept green by the application of plenty of water. The existing bunkers have been deepened and sand has been added and a large number of new bunkers have been constructed. Altogether, the course may now be said, without exaggeration, to rank with the best in Victoria. It will furnish a first-class test of the skill of the two visitors. The intention is to charge the nominal admission fee of $1, and all who are golfers, or who are interested in the game, are asked to co-operate in making the event an unqualified success.

Compston is visiting Western Canada for the first time. The name may be said also of Boomer. The latter has won many laurels both on the courses of England, the Continent and in America. He is the class of player who may be counted upon to bring out the best that Compston possesses. Compston, as all golfers know, is a splendid type of man physically, with a strong style. His coming to Western Canada will give golfers of this part of the world their first opportunity to see the best among British golfers in action.

COURSE IMPROVED Since it was known that this fine exponent of the royal and ancient game were coming to Vancouver Island

MODERN "SQUAWS" LABOR OVER OLD HUNTING GROUNDS

One Hundred and Sixty Women Swing War Clubs Well in Golf Tourney

Indian Hill Club, Chicago, Aug. 14.—If the Indians who used to swing their tomahawks and war clubs over Indian Hill in years gone by could have returned to their former haunts yesterday, they would have seen 160 modern "squaws" laboring over their hunting grounds with mallet and nibble, with a vigor that would have shamed their primitive efforts with archaic implements of war.

It was the qualifying round of the women's western golf championship, and at the end of the day calculators found that Dorothy Page, of Madison, Wis., champion two years ago, had used her war clubs most effectively, swung them only seventy-seven times to lay low the eighteen holes posing as her foes.

On the Indian Hill course of 6,420 yards, they allow eighty-one strokes in such a conquest to be perfect work, so that Miss Page was four blows better than her golf.

ONE STROKE BEHIND Right behind the medalist was Mrs. Dalton Raymond, of Baton Rouge, La., former Southern champion, with 78, while the other other player to score under 80 was Virginia Wilson, of Chicago, semi-finalist last year in the British tourney.

Another player broke par, Mrs. Harry Presler, of Los Angeles, defending champion, who made 80. Her fellow Californian, Mrs. Gregg Lifer, who was state champion at home, shot par 81.

It took 90 to tie for the last places among the thirty-two who qualified for match play. About the only star who failed to make the grade was Marion Turple of New Orleans, Southern champion, whose mallet nibble failed to deliver effective blows and ran her score up to 92, although she played the day in a course in practice the other day in a good 79.

To Protect Slim Lead Cardinals Looking In Byways For Recruits

Old Hands to Be Thrown Overboard by Manager McKeechie, of St. Louis, and Minor League Stars to Be Brought in to Save Team From Being Headed by Pesky New York Giants; Lefty Grove, Pitching With His Head, Gains Half a Game for Philadelphia Athletics

Following the example set by the New York Yankees, their prospective world's series rivals, the St. Louis Cardinals, in a slump and well aware of that fact, have sent out an emergency call for assistance.

The Yankees, after a disastrous Western trip, recovered their normal winning form almost simultaneously with the arrival of Fred Heimach, left-handed pitcher from St. Paul. Heimach won his first start as a Yankee, and the rest of the staff took a turn for the better immediately thereafter.

The senior infantry unit of the non-permanent militia was represented in the match by four of the country's best marksmen—Major L. I. Johnson, Lieut. H. W. Bishop, Lieut. D. T. Burke and Lieut. R. R. Macdonald. They compiled a total of 368 points, 17 more than the team of the Toronto regiment, which finished second.

The Barlow Cup shoot, opened on the fourth of the month at the Ottawa Majestic's forces, is contested at the 200 and 500 yards ranges, seven shots at each.

TUNNEY MAY BE SPLICED SOON

May Wed Before Leaving For Europe and Wife May Supplant Walking Pal

New York, Aug. 14.—Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion, returned here yesterday on a visit at St. John's Island, Maine, the summer home of Miss Mary Josephine Lauder, his fiancée.

The retired champion will sail Thursday for a walking tour through France, Germany and England with friends. At his hotel here he refused to discuss his coming marriage to Miss Lauder, explaining that he "was no longer in the public eye" and would not discuss his private affairs.

Rumors were persistent, although Tunney would not discuss them, that his marriage to Miss Lauder might take place here before his trip abroad. MAY GET THE CALL.

The New York Evening Post said yesterday that Miss Lauder might become Mrs. Tunney in time to replace Thornton Wilder, the novelist, as the former champion's companion on the European trip.

A trip to Spain has been included in Tunney's European itinerary. He is scheduled to visit Barcelona early in October to confer with Marquis de Foronda, president of the International Exposition, on the athletic program of the exposition.

Reforestation

Much has been said recently about reforestation in B.C. The present forest is the result of natural reforestation when the human hazard was not present to defeat nature.

Natural restocking of cut-over lands is now going on, as may be seen almost everywhere, and nature will again re-establish the forests if only fire is kept out.

HORSE RACING
New York, Aug. 14.—Under a perfect ride by F. Moore, George D. Widener's Finite captured the Water Bay Handicap, a mile dash for three-year-olds, and up at the post, Finite won the an odds-on chance at 7 to 1, covered the distance in the fast time of 1:38 4-5. Sortie, the second choice, took the place by fifteen lengths from Little Chief. Finite broke fast and led the field all the way. In the stretch, however, Sortie challenged. It was a hard drive to the wire, but Finite held on famously to win by a head.
Hawthorne's principal attraction, the Ascot Purse, a mile and seventy-yard gallop for horses of all ages, went to Mrs. R. Pollett's four-year-old gelding,
Gold Mint. The Pollett entry, paying $41.80 for $2, beat the favorite, Hiram, by a head in a driving finish. Hiram lengths back came Woodroffe. The time was 1:43.

G. O. Shone's Knave of Clubs made it three in a row for the meeting, he won the fourth and feature race at Bainbridge, a five and one-half furlong sprint. Forenoon, a long shot, was second and Tommy Foster third. The favorite, Black Agate, quit after taking an early lead. Knave of Clubs ran the distance in 1:06 3-5, within three-fifths of a second of the track record.

POLO MATCHES ARE POSTPONED
Argentina Team Requests Later Dates Owing to Injuries to Players

New York, Aug. 14.—The combination of weather and the slight injuries suffered in early practice by John Miles, No. 3, and Arthur Kenny, No. 1, of the Argentine polo team, have led Jack Nelson, captain and No. 2 of the visiting team, to request a postponement of the start of the matches for the championship of the Americas. Accordingly the date has been changed from Monday, Sept. 3 to Saturday, September 8. The second match will be played on Wednesday, September 13 and the third, if necessary, on the following Saturday, September 15.

In the final games played by the Argentines at Humason, Miles was thrown and strained his shoulder which has been slowly responding to treatment and is just rounding back into shape again. On the return from Humason, a slight infection was discovered in Kenny's riding finger of the left hand. These two ailments, however, have been combined with the late arrival of Lewis Lacey from England, to prevent proper practice for the Argentine team, particularly when rain washed away some matches planned for them. All of this led to Nelson's request which has been granted.

PREMIER KING TO SAIL FRIDAY FOR EUROPE

A few days. Mr. Larkin will be at Laurier House during his stay in Ottawa.

To-morrow Mr. King will attend a Cabinet meeting, the last before his departure. He probably will leave Friday for Paris, where he will sign the Kellogg anti-war treaty on behalf of Canada. Later he will attend the sessions of the League of Nations at Geneva. Hon. C. A. Dunning also will go to Geneva as a Canadian representative, but it is likely he and Mr. King will not sail on the same liner as the Premier is anxious to get to Paris by August 27, and there is no such haste necessary for the meeting of the League.

mid, solicitor for Grand Forks, invoked the Water Act, never used before in this way, to secure an arbitration of power rates before the Provincial Water Board. The company declined to accept the arbitration and Grand Forks threatened legal action to force acceptance. Finally, as provided by the Water Act, the power company filed a statement of its electrical rates which it proposed to charge in Grand Forks and all other communities and industries which it serves. Later, at a public hearing before the Water Board, Grand Forks argued that the rates planned for it were too high and the company proposed to charge in other communities was unreasonable. After a lengthy discussion in Roseland and in Victoria the board adjourned its decision.

MINING COMPANY OBJECTS

A short time ago, however, the dispute was complicated by the action of the Granby Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company which used its Kootenay power in its operations at Allenby. The Granby Company filed objections to the rates proposed for it.

The next move in the controversy was made by the Kootenay Company a few days ago when it applied to the Water Board to withdraw part of the schedule of rates which it had filed, on the ground that it was not able legally to sell power either to the Granby Company or to the communities of the Okanagan Valley. If the contention were upheld, the Kootenay Company could not sell power outside its immediate territory and thousands of people in Kelowna, Penticton, Oliver and many other communities would be deprived of all electrical facilities. It is this question, and the right of the power company to sell power outside its immediate territory, which will go before the Water Board here to-morrow.

COAST AFFECTED

While the board is going into these questions before rendering a decision, the Union of Municipalities will take them up on a broader provincial basis. From the standpoint of municipalities generally, the situation created by the Granby dispute is unsatisfactory. While the right of Grand Forks to appeal to the Water Board for an arbitration has been acknowledged, this right does not apply to communities served by the B.C. Electric Railway Company.

Under the Water Act a municipality can apply to the Water Board for a rate arbitration, but it is not supplied by a power company which actually manufactures power. Victoria, Vancouver and surrounding populous communities receive power from the B.C. Electric Company, which pumps and channels it from its subsidiaries. Consequently these communities could not secure an arbitration of power rates, and have no control or control over them. In other words, British Columbia legislation controls waterpowers in their natural state and in their development up to the point of their first sale. After that it does not affect them.

A slight amendment to the Water Act would bring the B.C. Electric Corporation and the sale of all power in the Province under the Water Board, and this possibility will be discussed by the Union of Municipalities. The effect of the plan would make the Water Board a full-fledged public utility commission, whereas now it is only empowered to act in this capacity in relation to the West Kootenay Power and Light Company's operations and in some unimportant power developments.

On the other hand, a strong group of municipal leaders are in favor of the Legislature favor the creation of an entirely new body to control power rates in the belief that the Water Board has its hands full with its ordinary functions, and that separate machinery is needed to protect the public in the fixing of electrical charges.

IS BIG ISSUE

All these questions will be discussed when the Legislature meets again. For some years the public utilities commission question has been considered briefly in the House, but no action has been taken. It is now a vital rate dispute and the recent sale of the B.C. Electric, with a huge increase in capitalization, however, has brought the issue definitely to the fore as one of the most important before the Government of the Province.

Counsel who will open the legal fight against the Water Board to-morrow assembled here to-day for a preliminary conference on plans for the argument. Lorne Campbell, president and general manager of the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, will be represented by his counsel, R. C. Lowe, E. C. Meyers, K.C., with C. H. Crooks, K.C., will represent the Granby Company, and F. A. McDonald, solicitor for Grand Forks, who opened the dispute originally, will appear for the interior city.

Company Registered to Erect Plant Here; Debentures Underwritten

An early start on the cold storage plant to be constructed in Victoria by the Victoria Cold Storage and Terminal Warehouse Company is indicated by its registration at the Parliament Buildings to-day, with a capitalization of $2,000,000, as an extra provincial company with the Quebec Savings and Trust Company acting as trustees for the debenture holders.

The lease from the Dominion Government for the Ogden Point site for the plant was received to-day by E. H. M. Foot, who is acting as resident attorney for the company. The lease is dated June 26, 1928, and construction is called for within ninety days of the signing of the lease.

Financing has been completed in the east with the Mutual Debenture Corporation of the city of Quebec underwriting the total issue of the debentures for the construction of the plant to the value of $2,000,000.

The office of Mr. Foot in the Bank of Nova Scotia will be the registered office of the company for British Columbia.

SOUTH AMERICA TOUR REVIEWED BY MISS AGNEW

Experiences of a tour of South America were presented to the Kiwanis Club to-day at the Empress Hotel by Miss Kathleen Agnew, past president of the Kiwanis Club.

Illustrating the colorful surroundings which mark all the nations of South America, Miss Agnew showed remarkable slides, photographs and basket-work made by the natives of Peru and other districts.

The Panama Canal is one of the wonders of the world, Miss Agnew said, telling of mile-long walks under the canal works and operating machinery.

RUINS STILL STAND

The destruction of wonderful buildings erected by the ancient Peruvians and his Conquistadores, is still evident everywhere, recalled Miss Agnew.

Visits to the Peruvian oil district were recalled, many Canadians being resident in the barren-Talara oil country. Ruins of wonderful buildings located in a desert and believed to have been constructed by Chinese were briefly described by Miss Agnew.

DAILY SHAKES

Experiences of a "perfectly good" nature which caused the speaker to doubt return to Victoria, were recalled, and Miss Agnew told of the ancient stone fortifications of the Inca, which she said were not so closely set that a knife blade could not be inserted in the joints, the massive works being without carvings.

Everywhere evidences of Mongolian origin were visible in the high mountain areas, the people being stolid and unemotional, she said, to emphasize the isolation and irrigation of mountain lands.

A visit to Lake Titicaca, the highest navigable water in the world, sketched, surrounding sandwood, and acacia trees being gorgeous with blooms. On that lake stands a British-built steamer, which twenty-five years ago had sailed to South America under its own power, to be dismantled, transported over mountains 14,000 feet high and reassembled.

High elevation required limitation of exercise, food was not of familiar type and severe headaches were suffered in the high altitudes.

CHRIST STATURE SEEN

Journeys through Chile were reviewed, with visits to Valparaiso and Santiago. The solidity of the British Empire was emphasized by the fact that the boundary of Chile and Argentina, was glimpsed as the transandean train passed.

The contrast between mountainous Chile and the flat Argentine prairies was remarked upon, the lowlands being extremely hot.

MOTOR SPEEDERS

Buenos Ayres is now a city of 2,000,000 people, prosperous and beautiful, with great numbers of high priced automobiles which travel at forty miles per hour without a moment's delay.

Santos in Brazil was visited the day a mountain had fallen on half the city, the great coffee estate having a great fleet of vessels awaiting cargoes.

SEWAGE BYTES

Gorgeous jungle and cultivated banana fields were traversed by train journey to San Paulo, where a remarkable snake farm is operated to secure serum against snake bite. Where 1,000 persons used to die from snake bite, only thirty-eight now perish, Miss Agnew said.

Brazilian railway methods were traced upon, one line having 405 accidents in 1925 days.

Rio de Janeiro is one of the wonderful beauty spots of the world, narrow business streets contrasting with beautiful buildings.

Rounds of applause greeted the conclusion of the address.

The sportsman of delegates to the Aberdeen convention will leave Victoria at 8 o'clock on Monday, arriving at Aberdeen an hour later.

White Sox game here to-day. Adkins was pitching for Chicago. None was on base. The drive puts the big Yankee slugger fifteen games, nineteen innings and eight home runs ahead of the record set by last season, when he was setting a new major league mark of sixty. He had only thirty-six homers on this date last year and hit his forty-fourth in game No. 129 in September. The game to-day was No. 113.

INQUEST TO BE HELD ON JORDAN RIVER ACCIDENT

Inquiry Into Death of W. E. Robertson Will Be Held To-morrow

Was Crushed By Fall of Machinery While Loading Railway Car

An inquest will be held at Thompson's Funeral Parlors to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock on circumstances surrounding the death of Walter Edward Robertson, 719 Esquimaux, who died at Jordan River yesterday, it was announced this morning by Coroner E. C. Hart.

Robertson was killed when a piece of work machinery fell upon him during railway loading operations at Camp Two of the B.C. Electric Railway Company. He was in the employ of the Pacific Transfer Company, engaged in hauling machinery from the freight depot to Camp Two.

According to the Provincial Police report, the flume pipe, weighing about two and one-half tons, was suspended in the air between the automobile truck and the railway car when the chain holding it snapped. The mass dropped crushing Robertson's head against a block which he was placing to support it on the car. His head was badly mutilated, death occurring instantaneously.

POLICE NOTIFIED

Constable A. G. Carmichael of the Provincial force was dispatched to the scene of the accident, following notification of the police. The remains were brought to the city, where they are resting at the Thompson Funeral Parlors.

Robertson has been a resident of the city for the last two years, being in the employ of the Pacific Transfer Company during that time. He was thirty years of age.

Besides the widow and two small children, he leaves to mourn his loss, his mother, Mrs. R. Robertson, of Shawanigan; his grandfather, S. Handy, of Shawanigan; three sisters, Mrs. McAllister, 209 Dundas Street, Mrs. S. Samuelson of Cobble Hill, and Mrs. A. Griffin of Port Hammond, and one brother, Philip, of Shawanigan.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from Thompson Funeral Parlors. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

EX-PREMIER AT LAKE OF WOODS

Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald and Daughters Welcomed at Kenora, Ont.

Kenora, Ont., Aug. 14.—The population of Kenora turned out en masse yesterday to welcome Right Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, British Labor Party leader, and his three daughters, Isabel, Joan and Sheila, who are making a brief stopover here in the course of their pleasure trip across Canada.

The former Labor Premier of Great Britain was met at Dryden by Hon. Peter Heenan, Federal Minister of Labor, who, on his arrival at Kenora, introduced the visitors to a gathering of civic dignitaries and leading citizens.

WELCOME APPROPRIATE

After listening to an address of welcome, Mr. MacDonald in a brief address thanked the gathering for the cordiality of the welcome accorded himself and his daughters.

Speaking of his meeting with the Canadian Labor representatives, Mr. MacDonald said that all their differences would be settled by round table conferences. The solidity of the British Empire was based on that principle and the Empire he characterized as "a big family and the finest institution the world has ever seen."

"I thank you, ladies and gentlemen, for your welcome," said the ex-premier. "I have come to rest, and without talking politics, I want to emphasize that we in this British Commonwealth of Nations are one family and that visits, informal visits, will help the family feeling."

CRUISE ON LAKE

Later in the day the visitors were taken for a pleasure cruise on the Lake of the Woods. They will remain here until to-night, when the western tour will be resumed, their programme calling for them to be in Victoria, B.C., August 27.

While in Kenora the MacDonalds are guests of Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor) at his Summer cottage.

STOCK MARKET - FINANCIAL NEWS - GRAIN MARKETS

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.
Winnipeg, Aug. 14.—Wheat: The wheat market to-day was purely a weather proposition. With showers general in all three provinces and low temperatures in Alberta, with from one to five degrees of frost being reported from west and south of Calgary, and the forecast predicting comparatively cool weather for to-day and Wednesday, the shorts became alarmed and were covering their commitments throughout the day. At the same time offerings were light except on the extreme bulges and as a result October prices advanced three cents above the previous close.

There was very little else going on in the local pit except short covering, but there was a little investment buying based on the cables which were stronger than due. There is a fair export business being worked daily, but it is not reflected in the local market. Foreigners are not buying new crop wheat and any bids received are considerably out of line. The cash market was very quiet, but showing a fair demand only for the lower grades of which there is very little left. Spreads were unchanged except numbers 1 and 2 Northern which were quarter lower.

New wheat, oats, barley and rye were received at country elevators yesterday in Southern Manitoba, and cutting should be mostly general over the west in another week or ten days. The short interest that existed in this market has been greatly reduced by the covering of the past three days, and while there has been no damage from frost so far, should further frosts be reported, the market will no doubt respond and do better.

Coarser Grains—These markets were all higher, but were getting their strength from wheat and shorts being forced to cover. There was a moderate demand for barley, but considerable demand for oats and rye was extremely slim, with very little going on in either cash or futures. Oats closed 1/2 higher, barley 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 higher, and rye 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 higher.

Flax—This market was strong, due chiefly to short covering based on the fear that frost would cause considerable damage. Crushers show little or no interest. Closing prices, 3 cents to 2 1/2 up.

A Romance of the Royal Air Force

By BOLLO VILLIERS

(The characters in this story are entirely imaginary, and no reference to living persons is intended)

"Listen," she said, in a voice that was low and soft; a voice which yet had power to quicken the heart beat. "I feel since our little adventure yesterday, when you tore across the desert and saved a small weak damsel from what I call a sticky end; that you are a man; that I can rely on you. Well—I want to, I can't explain matters to you now, but I feel that I've got your friendship I should never be frightened any more and, although there is nothing between Mr. Morton-Strangeways and myself—at least not officially—really I'm terrified of him."

She looked at Deane, searching in his eyes for some answering sympathy, some understanding of her quaint appeal. Apparently satisfied, she continued.

"You see he's different from all the other men I know, and I'll admit he fascinated me in the beginning. He knows the world; he can talk of India and Egypt, of my father's country, France, and of art and music, which are life to me."

"Now, I feel he has a hold over me, and I want to get out of—Oh! you won't understand, but it's just like struggling out of a net. I've nobody I can talk to and tell all this to—laugh—but you I can tell."

There was a little suppressed sob—the expression of relief of a pent-up heart which has found a long-dreaded outlet in a sympathetic nature. Deane leant over her, as she lay with her hand light clasped in his, and her blue, tear-filled eyes looking into his appealingly, and he put his other arm around her shoulders and drew her head toward him.

He murmured some broken words of soothing comfort, and pressed his lips upon her forehead just below a little black curl that lay over the centre.

"My poor dear," he murmured, "please, please don't cry. I'm with you, and you don't need to be frightened. Whatever happens I'll take care of you, and I'll always be there when you need me."

"The head of the flower, so proud and regal in the full glow of the sun, lay drooping, but at rest, upon a strong shoulder. The soles came fewer and fewer, but there was no other sound or movement."

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES—Not as They Expected

—By Martin

"But," she added, looking a little crestfallen, "I'm afraid that, if you take on the responsibility of a long journey in distress, your work is going to suffer. I know you think a lot of your career and you want to win promotion."

Deane laughed softly. "The one will inspire the other, and vice versa. The only thing I'm worried about is, what attitude Morton-Strangeways is going to take. When he realizes that you will not marry him, and certainly do not fear him? Also that Air Mechanic Deane is aiding and abetting you?"

Yvonne started, and the blue eyes widened. "I never thought of that side of it for you," she cried. "Of course, he may put all sorts of nasty things in the way of your promotion."

"No," interrupted Deane, "don't you worry about that. I'll manage my end of it. I was only thinking of you."

Yvonne laid her hand on his and pressed his fingers. "You're a big man, Deane," she smiled, "and I'll be quite safe—knowing you are with me."

There they sat until the light from the far horizon faded. The maid knocked and entered with a lamp, and set it on the table.

"Mr. and Mrs. Page have just come in, Miss Yvonne," she announced. A little silver-haired woman in whom age had only served to sweeten the face, and a big man, tanned of face with graying beard, entered the room.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Page, Yvonne's grandparents who had brought her up, mothered and fathered and spoiled her since the early days of infancy.

The little old lady tripped over the room on light steps to her granddaughter's side.

"Hello, Granny," greeted Yvonne, giving her a warm kiss. "Let me introduce to you Mr. Deane. He's the very clever young man who fixed up my old bus yesterday."

"Deane, meet the dearest, sweetest old soul in the world, my Granny, and the cross old stick you'll ever meet, in 'Pops'—that's the fierce man who is always trying to tame me."

With this family introduction made, supper was put on the table, during which meal the much embarrassed Deane had to submit to their thanks.

Yvonne, with her eyes closed, laid her head on the table, and Deane, a firmly established friend of the family, which friendship was further cemented when they learned that he knew Mr. Bridgman, and that the latter had been such a close friend of Deane's father at the old school, Donchester.

The weeks that followed were full of incident for Deane. He was "put through orders" for his promotion and became a Corporal-Mechanic. Deane Deane. He settled down to study for the examinations which, if passed, would bring him to the next rung in his career.

His task was not made any the lighter by the continual enmity, the ill-concealed hatred, of Morton-Strangeways, who resented that the young Air Mechanic had disregarded his veiled hints to keep away from Grange Farm, and that Deane had, in some mysterious way, lessened his own power with Yvonne, put every obstacle in Deane's way to make his life hard and unbearable.

One day, when Morton-Strangeways had returned from a trial flight, he entered in the log-book of the aeroplane that there was an air leak in the oil pressure system, which had caused his engine to overheat.

In the absence of the sergeant-in-charge of the flight, it would fall to the duties of the senior corporal to take the responsibility of rectifying the error, to make the necessary repairs and, when these were completed sign the log-book to this effect.

The job was immediately put in hand and carried out, carefully and speedily, under Deane's watchful eye. When the log-book was made up, he saw to it the repairs were duly entered and signed by himself.

The following day, the machine was passed by the ground staff as fit for flying, and Morton-Strangeways took it up again.

When he had reached a safe flying height, he manipulated one of the oil pipes to such an extent as to cause the same leakage to occur again.

He quickly landed his machine and entered up the new incident in the log-book.

He went further. Seeking out his flight commander, he made a special report to the effect that he had made a demand, the day previously, for the damage to be repaired and pointed out the fact that this was supposed to have been done.

SIDE GLANCES—By George Clark

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Hay Wagon

Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

The hot August sun shone down on the field where a farmer, having cut his hay, had raked the dried grass into piles, half round in shape and looking like the igloos, or ice huts, of the Eskimos at the North Pole. But if an Eskimo igloo had been in the hay field that summer day it would soon have melted into a puddle of ice water and then it might have boiled. For it was very hot.

Uncle Wiggily found it so. Having to wear his fur coat night and day, to tell you the truth the rabbit gentleman's fur coat was not so thick and heavy, now that it was summer, it would be very cold.

"Whew! But it certainly is hot!" exclaimed Mr. Longears as he hopped across the hay field.

"When you come out in the hot sun," asked a voice and, looking around to see who had spoken, the bunny saw a little field mouse lady in her grey fur coat with a long tail.

"Oh, I must hop out every day, rain or shine, hot or cold, to have an adventure," said Mr. Longears. "But, so-called," said Mr. Longears. "But, so-called," said Mr. Longears. "But, so-called," said Mr. Longears.

He quickly landed his machine and entered up the new incident in the log-book."

He went further. Seeking out his flight commander, he made a special report to the effect that he had made a demand, the day previously, for the damage to be repaired and pointed out the fact that this was supposed to have been done."

far to-day, Mrs. Field Mouse, no adventure has happened. I was just saying how hot it was."

"Why don't you crawl inside one of those igloos of hay and keep cool in the shade?" asked Mrs. Mouse. "That is what I am going to do."

So saying, she wiggled her way beneath a pile of the dried grass and soon she stopped rustling it and Uncle Wiggily said:

"I think she has gone to sleep. I'll do the same."

So Mr. Longears crawled beneath one of the round mounds of hay and, indeed, he found it very cool and pleasant there, out of the hot sun. He crawled up into a round ball and closed his eyes.

"Ouch!" suddenly exclaimed Uncle Wiggily when he awoke as he was falling asleep, he awoke with a start. For it felt just as if some one had stuck a pin in his pink, twinkling nose.

But when the rabbit gentleman looked he saw it was only a dried spear of grass that had stuck his nose. Then he smiled and bit off the stem, so it no longer pricked him and went to sleep in the sweet pile of spiky, perfumed hay.

Now soon after this the farmer said to his men:

"We must haul the piles of hay from the meadow into the barn for it looks like rain will spoil my hay."

Then the farmer and his men drove a big wagon into the field and began loading on it the different piles of hay. A man would stick his pitchfork into a mound of dried grass and lift nearly all of it, with one swoop, upon the hay wagon where another man spread it about smoothly.

Uncle Wiggily did not wake up when the men came to gather the hay and the rabbit gentleman was asleep when a man's pitchfork (the sharp points luckily not touching him) lifted the hay in the wagon. He was riding on the hay wagon toward the barn.

Pretty soon, however, the jolting of the wagon awakened Mr. Longears. He felt himself being jounced and bounced about and said:

"What in the world has happened?" He could not guess, so, peering out through the cracks in the load of hay, he saw where he was; up on top of a high wagon. "My goodness! I'm on a hay wagon!" thought the bunny. "I haven't jump down, for it's too far to do so. Oh, what shall I do?"

There was nothing to do but wait until the hay wagon was driven into the barn and then Mr. Longears thought he could slide down and run away. Soon the load of hay rumbled over the barn floor.

"Unloaded!" cried the farmer. He and his men stuck their pitchforks into the load of hay and lifted big piles of it off the wagon and tossed them back in the mow where the hay would be kept for the horses to eat during the winter.

Uncle Wiggily, still hiding in the hay, did not know what moment he might be lifted up in a pile and tossed into the mow.

"I only hope I don't get stuck with a pitchfork," thought the bunny. And then, all of a sudden, something happened. I shall tell you about it tomorrow night. Then, if the dinner bell will give a gold ring to the loaf of bread I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggily's funny jump.

Washington Crews Fight Forest Fire

Tacoma, Aug. 14.—Tacoma, Puyallup, Auburn and Sumner fire companies are battling a dangerous fire which broke out early this morning at the plant of the Pacific Lumber Agency at Sumner. The fire is near plants of the Shell Oil Company, the Fleischmann Yeast Company and the Fibre Board Company. A call for an extra fire company from Tacoma was sent shortly after 2 a.m. when it was feared the fire might get beyond control and spread to the other plants and numerous barns, constipation must be relieved or colic pains or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

"There would be fewer automobile accidents if motor drivers had eyes tests," says an exchange. Some of them ought to have breath tests.

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops will bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infants; you have the doctors' word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved or colic pains or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

Book of Knowledge

Sketches by Henry.
Synopsis by Braconer.

TRADE AND DISCOVERY

From the fourteenth to the sixteenth centuries the Dutch sailors made themselves feared on the seas. One of the Dutch ships of the period is sketched above. This was purely a sailing vessel, oars then being generally supplanted by sails. The Dutch were daring navigators and made many important discoveries.

By H.E.A. Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-25.

Here is sketched the ship that discovered a new world, the Santa Maria, in which Christopher Columbus crossed the Atlantic in 1492.

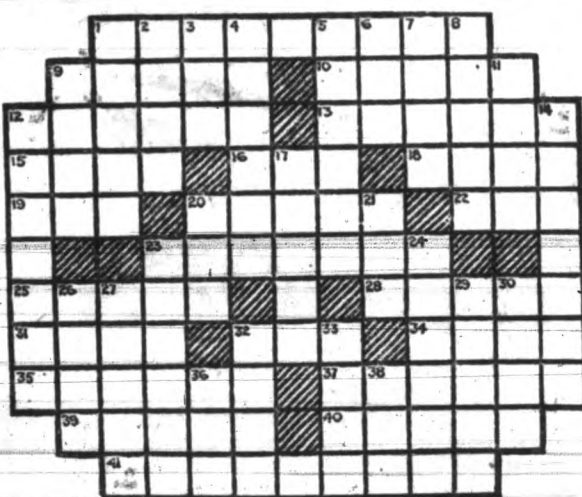

The Elizabethan Age was a period of great activity in shipbuilding. The galleon became one of the important styles in ships.

Spain was the last of the maritime nations to take the galleon as a model; but when she did she made the galleons higher and of heavier material than had yet been tried. But they were hard to manage in any kind of a wind, and that fact went generally against the Spaniards in 1588 when the Spanish Armada was destroyed.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

To-morrow's Horoscope

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1928

Benefic aspects contend with those of adverse power to-day, according to astrology.

In the early morning there may be an inclination toward irritability, especially on the part of husbands, who should be treated tactfully. Warm weather may be expected in many places and cities will be places from which to flee, but the seers predict improvement in public health. Under this rule of the stars sudden Severe thunderstorms may be looked for late into the Autumn, for the conjunction of Mars and Jupiter in July still produces effects, those who read the skies maintain. Newspapers and their editors are well directed and they will profit at this time, when they will contribute unusual interest in public matters.

Personalities may be prevalent and astrologers persist in forecasting sensations of unbridled character. Deaths are presaged among the prosperous, but workers have promise of immunity from many ills. While there is a good sign for social matters of every sort, gossip is subject to an evil direction of the stars.

Women continue under a rule of the stars that sharpens all their faculties and makes them keenly alive to all that concerns human welfare. They will organize for many reforms as the Autumn advances and they will sustain disappointments as well as victories. Girls may revive oldtime feminine styles and manners, but they will continue to be alertly awake to all that spells progress. They will not be easily intrigued by flattery and will be hard to deceive, the seers declare. Neptune is in an aspect that is supposed to encourage disorders and changes of rule in government. (Copyright, 1928)

Eleven-year-old Boy Issues Thriving Paper

Roderick Chisholm, Nephew of G. R. Chisholm, of Victoria, Editor, Printer and General Factotum of The Weekly Times, of Plainville, Mass.

Plainville, Mass., may not loom as large on the maps of the world as Montreal or New York, but Plainville can proudly boast of a possession denied to either of these more cosmopolitan cities—a weekly newspaper printed by an eleven-year-old boy. And the publisher, editor, compositor, pressman and general factotum is Roderick Chisholm, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Chisholm of Oak Bay Avenue, Victoria.

SMALL BUT "NEWSY"
The Weekly Times of Plainville is two columns wide and about six inches long, and since it was first established by its youthful owner in January 7, 1928, it has grown from eleven copies each issue to 108 copies, with all subscribers fully paid up, too.

The paper is small, compared to other journals, but it is full of interesting news, pithy editorial comments and genuine advertisements. The Weekly Times is published in an "office" in his home, and sell for three cents a copy.

Roderick's story of how he conceived and founded The Weekly Times reflects a world of enterprise and perseverance and ingenuity—qualities which should take him far in his chosen work.

"I always wanted to be an editor," he declared. "A couple of years ago a friend of mine took me through a newspaper office, and then I knew I wanted a printing press. A year ago last Christmas my mother gave me a hand press for a present, and then I made up my mind that I would soon have a paper. Plainville didn't have a newspaper, so when we moved there from Attleboro I made up my mind I would start one."

The first issue of The Weekly Times came off the press January 7, 1928. There were eleven copies, ten for subscribers and one for the young publisher's files. Roderick didn't find a ready market for his newspaper, but to no one can say that he lacked faith in it.

"I tried and tried to sell all my papers, but I could find only two people who would buy it. One was my teacher."

It is interesting to note that the names of the two original subscribers are still on the circulation list of The Weekly Times. And with their names are those of 108 other regular readers.

EXTRA HELP NEEDED
Circulation and business of The Times has expanded to such an extent that Roderick has had to employ a North Attleboro "representative" in the person of fourteen-year-old Frank Holbrook.

"My representative," said Roderick, in a matter-of-fact way, "makes the North Attleboro deliveries and gets advertising and subscriptions and sometimes news. I pay him one-third of the profits from his territory."

Examination of back numbers of the little paper, which has missed only one issue since its first appearance early in January, reveals the fact that its editor is possessed of a "nose for news," a very essential adjunct in the realm of journalism. He also has a nose for business.

SPECIAL EDITION
Those two qualities enabled him to score a distinct feat on his last contemporary April 23, when he issued a special edition in honor of the twenty-third anniversary of Plainville. None of the other papers had the story. In fact, it is doubtful if any member of their staffs had given the matter even a thought.

Its front page headed by the word "Plainville" in huge letters and red ink and bearing the seal of the community, also in red. The Weekly Times made its appearance on that memorable date in five sections of four pages each, doing full justice to the occasion.

A historical article, published in the enlarged edition, conveys some idea of the brevity which characterizes the youthful editor's presentation of the news. It follows, typographical errors and all:

"Our first white settler was J. Slack. He named this Slackville. He made fire story in Mass. We were Inc. 1906. Perhaps 'firv story' was intended to be 'history'."

BREVITY, BREVITY
Among other interesting items in the anniversary edition were these:

"One cow killed because of tuberculosis."

"Mrs. Lindbergh and Mary Pickford pass through town."

"The printing press was made in 1450 by John Gutenberg. America's first paper was in 1609."

There is a North Attleboro page in The Weekly Times, and the issue of March 31 contains this:

"North Attleboro: F. mous tenor Mario Cappelli is to sing here Sun."

SNAPPY MOTTO
The Weekly Times, among other things, has a snappy motto. It sets forth briefly and concisely its publisher's policy. It reads, "We have news that is news. We have what you want."

Living up to his slogan, Editor Roderick published the following on April 26:

"N. Sperry undertook a funeral Friday."

"Spring in the air!"

"Alpin Chisholm has a turtle named Izadore. He will accept all files."

"Mr. Bennett's pear have nearly been run over by gravel trucks."

The issue of April 23 was published during Boys' Week. So, under an appropriate illustration and caption, Editor Roderick printed:

"It's the boys of to-day that are Leaders of Tomorrow. Men often think of them as nothing, though they were once boys."

CIVIC PRIDE
Considerable civic pride is reflected in the columns of The Times. This is demonstrated by items such as the following:

"North Attleboro is on the lips of many travelers who will stop at the Bixon."

"Why can't we boost Plainville?"

"North Attleboro was founded in 1609 by John Woodcock. He built a Public Garrison on the Bay Road and owned 300 acres of land. The garrison was later bought by Mr. William Haines. About thirty years ago the house was torn down, which was one of the greatest mistakes of the townpeople."

In his capacity as editor of a growing newspaper, Roderick is not always solemn. Often he publishes a department titled "Snapshots," of which the following excerpts are good examples:

"It is strange that the Rhode Island 'vets' are relying upon the help of Providence."

"Considerable cigarettes ruin a woman's complexion. Smoke was always ruinous to paint."

"The great horror is not in discovering what man descends from, but in what he descends to."

CLARA BOW PLAYS LEADING ROLE IN DOMINION PICTURE

Clara Bow had the unique distinction of playing in person before the oldest theatre owner in the United States recently when R. M. Stanton of Wendell, Idaho, paid an impromptu visit to the Paramount studio in Hollywood.

Miss Bow was busy on her latest release, "Ladies of the Mob," which has been booked for showing at the Dominion Theatre this week, when Stanton called. He remained an interested spectator while several scenes of the picture were filmed.

The veteran exhibitor paid his first visit to Hollywood to see how his theatre attractions are made at first hand. He reported an enjoyable time at the studio.

The stage attraction at the Dominion Theatre this week offers Edie Williams, a very fine based singer in song selections, both classical and popular. Mr. Williams will appear both afternoon and evening.

FAMOUS COMEDY TEAM PLAYING NOW AT VARIETY

You can't afford to miss the hour and a half of laughter which is going on this week at the Variety Theatre. The picture is First National's "Flying Romeo," with that popular comedian, George K. Hughes, and Charlie Murray, supplying the fun.

Fans who have followed the antics of this pair before declare it is their favorite comedy team.

"SAIORS' WIVES" ATTRACTION NOW AT PLAYHOUSE

COLUMBIA SHOWING "SHIELD OF HONOR" ALL THIS WEEK

The authors of "The Fourth Commandment," the most popular film production of the last five years has scored another triumph in "The Shield of Honor," the Universal production at the Columbia Theatre this week. "The Fourth Commandment" was produced a few years ago with Belle Bennett, Bobby Agnew and Henry King. About thirty years ago the picture that it was recently released by popular demand. The director-authors combination of Emory and Emile Johnson is a very famous world over, and "The Shield of Honor" is said to be a worthy successor to their other accomplishments.

ADOLPHE MENJOU PLAYS WITHOUT FAMOUS CLOTHES

Our old friend, Adolphe Menjou, is back on the screen at the Capitol Theatre, this week without his dress suit—although he continues to exhibit his suaveness in the uniform of a French army officer seeing service in Algiers.

The picture, a Paramount production, is called, "A Night of Mystery" and is Ernest Vajda's adaptation of Victorien Sardou's stage play, "Captain Ferret."

It is a new Menjou appearing on the local screen, for the story does not centre about his heart-pirating; instead, he seeks to repulse the advances of a married woman. These advances bring him face to face with a murderer in the act of committing his crime, that murderer being a witness to one of his love trysts, so Menjou is unable to speak. Then, when the brother of the girl Menjou really loves is charged with the crime, he is faced with a serious problem.

How he solves this without ruining the reputation of the married woman, nor injuring his fiancée, forms a thrilling climax to a well-played picture.

The stage specialties at the Capitol Theatre this week are exceptionally fine, and include Bruce Hamilton, the well-known American tenor; Betty Hanson, a dainty acrobat dancer, and Robin and Hood, in a novelty sing-tay. Harold Bechtel, the popular singing M.C. will be heard singing The Told Frutti Song, and the concert orchestra will also feature a special overture.

"Dawn" Screened At Coliseum Theatre Here on Monday

"It is uncanny. I cannot describe it. It is uncanny." The words were uttered by Madame Bodart during the making of the film "Dawn."

Madame Bodart, who was actually one of Nurse Cavell's chief helpers in Brussels, assisting in the smuggling of refugees across the Dutch frontier, plays the same part in the film as she played in real life.

She was trembling after some of the scenes had been filmed with Sybil Thorne, impersonating Miss Cavell. "It is uncanny," she said, glancing nervously towards Miss Thorne. "She is so like Miss Cavell. Her hair, her hands, the way she talks. It seems as though I have been carried back to those dreadful days, that Miss Cavell is here, alive, and that I am reliving those events all over again."

"Dawn" will be staged at the Coliseum Theatre.

STRONG CAST FOR JEROME'S DRAMA

"Passing of Third Floor Back" Full of Human Appeal

The great drama of the late Jerome K. Jerome, "The Passing of Third Floor Back," was the production that Mr. Jerome wished to be remembered by more than any of his other works. Curiously enough, when people recall this great writer, they think of him more as the author of "Three Men in a Boat," and usually look upon him in the role of a humorist. While "The Passing of Third Floor Back" is brimming with humor, it is none the less a heart-searching play full of human qualities.

The setting of the play is a boarding house in which are paying guests of all the varieties of humanity, first of all represented in its sordidness. Twelve types are portrayed, and in the first act, their unkindness, satire, hypocrisy and cant are exemplified by the characters. The play opens with the introduction in sequence of those various types, including a miser, a snob, a slutt, a boomer, a retired army officer and his family, and so on.

The first change in the character of these people takes place at the close of the first act upon the entrance of the "stranger," who comes seeking the vacant room (the third floor back). From then on the transcendent personality of the "stranger" as he is also termed, begins to work to transform each occupant of the boarding house. The direct suggestion of good is the power used by the "stranger" who sees that the business of art is to reveal the beauty underlying all things.

Major Bullock-Webster announces that the aggregation of ladies and gentlemen who will form the cast will constitute one of the strongest ever appearing here before playgoers. Great care has been taken to select artists to fill each role adequately, and lovers of non-professional acting will be delighted with their efforts. The play will run for three performances at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Friday evening, and Saturday afternoon and evening, September 7 and 8.

Sayward

Sayward, Aug. 13—Mr. and Mrs. D. Davies were given a very pleasant surprise on Saturday evening, when numerous friends gave a party in their honor on their silver wedding anniversary. Quite a procession of illuminated automobiles invaded their fields, parking in the orchard. Conspicuous were all kinds of fun and games were enjoyed. A presentation was made by Mrs. J. Lewis to the happy couple, in the form of a beautiful time piece and silver fruit set. After speeches, supper was served by the visitors and the revelry continued.

On Monday evening Miss Edna Davies celebrated her twenty-first birthday with a party at her home.

Dr. Yeolien arrived here on Wednesday last and is carrying out a health survey for the Department of Public Health.
